

PRIVACY POLICY

If you decide to use our program, there are a few pieces of information that you should know concerning your privacy when visiting our program.

We collect personal information of all Internet users who register with us. We follow all privacy policy terms and standards for this information. We may collect your IP address, the Internet connection speed, browser language and screen resolution when you visit our program.

This information is used to ensure the best possible experience on our site, and to help with the improvement of your navigation. We monitor the IP address of any client that visits our program.

Any inquiries should be addressed in writing to our dedicated support via the contact page or via live support.